Excerpt: . . . fficio), Pascrell, Dicks, Harman, Lowey, Norton, Christensen, Etheridge and Thompson (ex officio). Mr. King. The subcommittee will come to order. Good morning. Let me first welcome our distinguished witnesses and say how much we appreciate your appearance before us today. The purpose of todays hearing is to evaluate the Department of Homeland Security and Health and Human Services implementation of the Project BioShield Act of 2004. Initially proposed by the President in his State of the Union address in 2003 and enacted into law exactly 1 year ago, BioShield was designed to address the lack of a commercial market for countermeasures against CBRN weapons, creating incentives for biotechnology and pharmaceutical companies to invest and do research in the development of such products. This hearing is not the first on BioShields implementation nor, I am afraid, will it be the last. Various House and Senate committees have held numerous committees examining the Department of Health and Human Services BioShield responsibilities, effectiveness of BioShields market incentives and the need for new legislation to address the need for additional private sector concerns such as liability issues, intellectual property rights and the so- called valley of death, which is the transition from basic research to countermeasure production. This hearing, however, is different. It will focus on the critical yet relatively unexamined responsibilities of the Department of Homeland Security under BioShield. Among other things, the Department of Homeland Security is responsible for assessing and determining which agents present material threats to our Nations security. Such assessments and determinations are central to BioShields success. They dictate which specific countermeasures may be eligible for...
